The Realist Short Story of the Powerful Glimpse Sep 04 2021 An aesthetic perspective on the short fiction of Chekhov, Joyce, Hemingway, O'Connor, and Carver Taking a distinctively aesthetic approach to the genre of realist short fiction, Kerry McSweeney clusters the work of five masters--Anton Chekhov, James Joyce, Ernest Hemingway, Flannery O'Connor, and Raymond Carver--to offer a poetics of the form for students and scholars. At the center of this argument is the notion that the realist short story is a glimpse--powerful and tightly focused--into a world that the writer must precisely craft and in which the reader must fully invest. Selecting writers from different generational, national, and cultural backgrounds, McSweeney chooses writers based on their commitment to the realist representation of experience and their shared belief in the importance and efficacy of the short story form. By considering their efforts in tandem, he develops a means to assess the strategies and claims of realist short fiction. McSweeney demonstrates that when the comments these writers have made about their work are assembled and critically scrutinized, the result is an aesthetic critical model--as opposed to more interpretative models that focus attention on the determination (or indetermination) of meanings. He suggests that a fully adequate reading of a realist short story involves the integration of three components: the enjoyment and contemplation of the story in and of itself; affective receptivity, or a response to the story's emotional content; and cognitive activity, or the reflective consideration of the story's conceptual implications. In individual chapters on Chekov, Joyce, Hemingway, O'Connor, and Carver, this presentational model is applied to widely known and often anthologized readings from each writer. McSweeney brings into sharp focus the distinctive features of each piece, makes qualitative discriminations, and assesses the profitability of other critical models. He concludes with an invitation to test the mettle of his approach in reading other realist short story writers.

Silent Answers Jan 20 2023 A book of short stories is like a box of chocolates. You never know what you're gonna get. Sebastian Costard's Silent Answers is a box of chocolates. I didn't read Costard's stories in the order you see here; I chose them randomly. It doesn't matter; each one was a new experience. I read The Triangle first and felt like a voyeur when a quirky woman entered the story and the life of a stressed attorney. Costard's twists and turns brought Kate Chopin's tales to mind. A story of coming to terms with death and lost friendships in Costard's Sarah's Folly might feel way too familiar for some readers. But the sweetness in this story gives hope to all who have gone through this kind of suffering. In his stories I traveled from France to Latvia to London to China to California to South Carolina and Georgia, Florida, and farther. It's a pleasure to read of places I've visited - or may never visit - and feel as though I were there. Costard has done the traveling for all of us and became steeped in the varied cultures. And because of his writing, I became engulfed in those same cultures as I immersed myself in each story. It's not only the traveling that drew me in. Each character was totally different from others I met throughout the book. Obviously Costard observes and understands human nature. Real people, real problems, but not so real solutions. Just like a box of chocolates, I never knew what I was going to get, but I knew from the first story I would be entertained. The next best thing to being entertained? Learning something. Hostile takeovers, Jewish religious holidays, American Indian history, French wine, Chinese culture, the goodness of caring neighbors - this and more I found in Sebastian Costard's Silent Answers. Forrest Gump, your momma was a wise woman. Susan Polonus Mucha Author of Deadly Deception

Reading Comprehension for Girls Oct 17 2022 Reading Comprehension for Girls includes 48 fun short stories designed for girls to read. Each story is followed by four multiple choice questions that girls should be able to answer if they have already read and understood the story. Answers can be found at the back of the book. This book is divided into three parts: Part 1 has 16 stories with 1 page (approx. 200 to 300 words). Part 2 has 16 stories with 1-2 pages (approx. 300 to 400 words). Part 3 has 16 stories with 2-3 pages (approx. 500 to 800 words). Each story features a topic likely to inspire girls' interest in the story. Topics include: princesses mermaids fairies slumber parties birthday parties magical items field trips and much more Most of the multiple choice questions have three answers to choose from in the beginning of the book, and this grows to five answers to choose from toward the end of the book. The answer key allows parents and teachers to quickly check student work (or aids as a self-check for students who are working independently). Students are encouraged to summarize each story in addition to answering the four multiple choice questions. Writing a summary forces the student to read the story and not just search for the answers to the questions.

The print edition of this workbook includes blank lines on which to briefly summarize each story from Parts 1-2. For the e-book edition, a basic blank composition notebook or journal could be used for summarizing each story. The mermaid theme on the cover and interior design, along with the topics and characters of the stories, were chosen specifically to help interest girls. Of course, boys could read and enjoy this book, too, although some boys may not appreciate that it says "for Girls" on the title. Sorry, boys! (There may be a similar book for boys coming in the future.)
