Fate has a wicked sense of humor. When I was sixteen, I met the love of my life in magic school. He'd appear exactly once a year at the annual masquerade ball, then vanish... Fast forward to the present: to the night I'm attacked and my hidden wolf emerges. As it turns out, I'm a freakin' hairy, tail-wagging, shape-shifting werewolf so instead of returning to the human world after graduating, I'm dragged to Moon Valley to control my inner beast. Only problem is, I'm not just a wolf. And someone wants me dead because of it. When I meet the alpha heir, sparks fly. And bombshell—he's my supposed wolfy fated mate, but he's nothing like the boy I loved. He's cold, sullen, a total jerk but impossibly gorgeous. Of course. And he's got secrets too. Despite hating him most days, I can't deny the irresistible attraction...and neither can he. Even after he rejects me. Little does he know, I'm more than capable of taking care of myself—maybe even capable of taking his claim as alpha. If you love Leia Stone's Wolf Girl, Linsey Hall's Darkest Moon and Jaymin Eve's Rejected, start reading now! *** This is an upper YA/NA crossover with schmexy alpha wolves and is best suited for ages 16+. Be warned this is a slow burn enemies-to-lovers romance, and the steaminess factor does increase through the course of the series! ♥ *** Wolfish is set within the world of Azar, along with (in reading order) Hitched, Darkblood Academy, Royally Hitched and Darkblood Prison but it's not necessary to read the other series first to enjoy this one. Some secrets keep you safe... Adeline Rodriguez left her violent past behind, buried her secrets and started over in Verona Bay. Now a successful co-owner in a local pet grooming business, she's made a life for herself in this idyllic community, and has real friends. Thanks to her past, the only thing she hasn't mastered yet is a real relationship. And when circumstances lead her to finally let her guard down with sexy Mac Collins, he completely ghosts her. Her first instinct is to close herself off again, but she decides to confront him instead—and that fateful decision puts her directly in the crosshairs of a killer. Others can destroy you... Mac has wanted Adeline since the moment they met, but she made it clear that she didn't want a relationship. So he kept his distance. When they're trapped together in a remote cabin, things change between them. But Mac's past has come back to haunt him, so he pushes her away to protect her. Unfortunately, it's already too late. Adeline is now a target too. To save her, Mac has no choice except to end the threat. Only then can he try to win over the woman he can't live without. But winning over the feisty Adeline might prove to be harder than stopping a killer. Verona Bay Series: Dark Memento, #1 Deadly Past, #2 Silent Protector, #3 Author note: All books in the Verona Bay series may be read as stand-alones. My d*ck never got me in half as much trouble as my heart... We were high school sweethearts. I was head over heels for her and no one could tell me we weren't going to last forever. College? Going pro? My family's money? None of it mattered. She was all I needed. Then she ripped my heart out. But I'm not going to let that happen again. She's back. Invading my life and acting like she was the wronged one. The pain is still there, but I can't keep my eyes off her. I can't stop thinking about her and how much was left unsaid between us. Being this close is making me question everything I thought I knew about her. This time everything will be on my terms. Everything... The moment we meet, I know she's everything I ever wanted. And when she tells me her fantasies ... there's nothing that will stop me from making them come true. She asks me to play her baby-daddy and wants the role of my wife. I'll give in to her domestic kink ... after all, she's a virgin determined to get her cherry popped -- and with a body as delicious as hers, I know I'll need another taste. We share one unforgettable night and make plans for plenty more ... but then she disappears into thin air. No trace. No name. All I have is the memory of her innocence and the belief that what we had was real. Nothing will stop me from finding her. She's my everything ... and I'll make sure she never forgets it. Dear Reader, This is a filthy-sweet story with kinky undertones ... well, not really under ... more like on top of and inside. Filled with, even. It's got amnesia, oysters, and plenty of shucking. xo, frankie What if everything you knew, everything you believed ... was a lie? For Ruby Moore life doesn't slow down. It's just one roller coaster ride after another and when the higher power comes to visit, Ruby's world is shaken to its foundations. He offers her a job and if she wants to protect those she loves, she has no choice but to accept it. Face to face once again with love, loss and death Ruby is being forced to sacrifice her own freedom in order to protect her world from the clutches of the evil vampires and if she fails, her loved ones will have to pay the price. I'm not a good Catholic girl. A good Catholic girl would never use church on Sunday to lust over the Father's son. A good Catholic girl would never pulse between her thighs and lose her breath over the boy who recites the closing prayer - even if his voice is low and sinful enough to make her toes curl in her shoes. A good Catholic girl would never allow herself to be led into temptation by dirty, blond hair and dark eyes... And a good Catholic girl would never use Bible study as an excuse to be used and abused. But, like I said, I'm not a good Catholic girl... And he's FAR from a good Catholic boy. Caleb Andrews is everything I don't need, but he's everything I want... God help me. I don't know how my life got so twisted. One day, I'm working as a cash guard, shooting the tires off a stolen vehicle, and the next I'm a guard for the only daughter of high-profile mob boss, Marco Ventilli. The twist? I've already met the five-foot-four, one-hundred-and-ten-pound bombshell that is Sera Ventilli. In fact, I've had her every way a man can have a woman, and if her father ever finds out, he'll skin me alive and bury me six feet under the hot sands of Las Vegas. I knew Sera looked like the worst kind of trouble-my gut told me she was-but she swore otherwise, and I lapped up every single lie she fed me, like a Goddamn idiot. All I had to do was keep the promise I made to my mother on her deathbed. Leave the Army, find a normal job and a good woman, and get on with my life. Yeah. So much for that. She finds her high-school flame to scratch an itch? and loses her heart. Jade Hollis is having the crappiest day of her life. Laid off from her job? Check. Discovered her boyfriend is a lying, cheating snake? Check that, too. But she's not wasting time on any pity parties. Nope, she's lighting a match to this dumpster-fire and leaving town. Destination? Who cares? With memory lane guiding her, she winds up in quirky Haven, Texas, face-to-face with Colton Maddox-the one who got away. One look at the sexy cowboy, and Jade is itching to find out if his illustrious reputation between the sheets is fact or fiction. The short answer? The man deserves a shrine. She decides to enjoy her detour a little longer, because one night isn't near enough to work him out of her system. But Colton has a secret that may change her plans forever? Guarding a secret and playing with fire has never been a good combination. Four years ago, Holly Scallenger embarked on the most difficult journey of her life. As if being a single parent isn't already stressful enough, Holly also attended med-school, in hopes of helping other pregnant women in a way she wasn't helped. But things don't look so good as she has to embark on a new journey - a journey that would take her back to Boston, back to the man who broke her heart and discarded her and her babies. Sworn to never fall for him again, Holy is put to the test once more when a chance encounter reunites them. Secret Love is the second novel in the 4Ever series by Isabella White I knew Seth Marc was trouble the moment I laid eyes on him. His arresting presence rippled through me and I felt his chaos deep in my bones as our gazes met across the expanse of my father's gym. The alluring fighter wasn't my type with his athletic torso, long, ropy arms, and powerful fists built to destroy men weaker than him, but every fiber in my being was fixated on him. I craved him. And although I knew he was the kind of guy who left a trail of shattered hearts in his wake, I wanted him. I needed him. I had to have him. For the first time in my life, I decided to take a walk on the wild side, consequences be damned. How do you win back a love you threw away with a careless text message? How do you win back a girl who can't stand the sight of you? Instead of penning the perfect, heartfelt love letter, or sending bouquets of roses, I followed Cassia from Arizona to New York City and moved in next door to her and her new boyfriend, Nick. Cassia claims her relationship with Nick is built on concrete, that I can't touch what they have, but I see the flash of desire in her eyes whenever she looks at me, feel the quickening of her breath on my face whenever I get close. I know better than to take her lies as truth. Their foundation is built on nothing more than crumbling bricks, and I'm wielding the sledgehammer that will smash it down. Jai Stone... I met him in the shadows first. He was tall and broad-shouldered, a man walking a dangerous path of rage and revenge, barreling toward certain death. The more time we spent together, the more he showed me who he was. Captivating... Charming... Ferocious in his own way... I had no right following Jai into the abandoned industrial site, but I did, and that stupid mistake was all it took to rip me from my world of semi-normalcy and thrust me headfirst into the gritty criminal underground with Stone as my only ally. Aboveground, I'm a student nurse painfully dragging herself through an unfulfilling life, but down here, where men wear tattoos on their faces and kill without remorse, I'm a fraud living on borrowed time... ...and not much of it. The king's order is final. I've screwed up big time. Now, I'm facing the damning consequences. The walls are closing in as I balance duty to grandmother's memory with my impossible feelings for Kyros. Then there's the freakin' human-vampire hybrid thing to deal with. The problem is, I'm no longer willing to lose the person I've gambled against from the start. Our fates hinge on a single roll of the dice, and one wrong move could collapse the tower of cards I've painstakingly built. If that happens, I'll lose more than I ever bargained for. If you can't get enough of books by Shannon Mayer, Linsey Hall, McKenzie Hunter, Patricia Briggs, Laura Thalassa, and K.F. Breene, then hold on tight. You're about to enter the shadows of Bluff City! Think your dreams are private? Think again. As a dreamwalker, I can ease your nightmares, inspire creation, or steal memories, all for the small price of a buttload of cash. I need the money to save my mom's life, and the clock is ticking. Then a gorgeous illusionist comes into the picture—though those mouthwatering looks may just be his powers in action. He sends me on a job with a major paycheck, but the pucking vampires show up and ruin everything. As usual, they suck. Now I'm knee-deep in a murder case where the victims and the perps could all kill me with a snap of their fingers. Throw in a creepy castle, a stinky moat, and a legendary monster, and we've got ourselves a party. Especially when the bodies begin to pile up. My name is Bailey Spade, and if I don't solve this case, I'm dead. Fantasy-roman. A young girl murdered. A devastated father refusing to seek revenge. A murderer transformed through the Gospel he stole from his victim. Then forgiveness given and peace achieved! No, it's not a Hollywood blockbuster! It's the true story of a Maori girl named Tarore, the events surrounding her death and the impact her death had upon the Maori people of Aotearoa/ New Zealand. It's a story of how God brought about His purposes amongst the Maori tribes of this nation. It's the story of how Maori with only one copy of the Gospel of Luke became evangelists to their own people. It's the story of how the first European missionary arrived on the Kapiti coast to find churches planted and Maori worshipping using fragments of the Maori Prayer Book. It's a story of how the first Bishop of New Zealand travelled to the South Island to find many tribes that already knew Jesus Christ. It's a story that will captivate you, as you read how God unfolded His plans for this nation. And it's a story that's still a part of God's plan for New Zealand. Renowned children's author, Joy Cowley, has teamed up with The Bible Society to write the Tarore story. With painting by Mary Glover Bibby. Two years ago, Reed Jackson betrayed Calliope Thorne and broke her heart. So she stole his most prized possession - a white mustang - and drove it into the lake for revenge. Now, Callie is stuck at a reform school while Reed is off at college, living his life without repercussions. Until he comes back. With him comes back all the feelings that Callie has been trying to bury: anger and heartbreak. But most of all, desire. At the sight of his beautiful but lying lips and his gunmetal gray eyes that still taunt and smolder when he looks at her. Whatever though. It's not as if Callie is ever going to fall for her ex-boyfriend again. Or let him corner her in a bar one night and touch her, kiss her... Neither is she going to kiss him back. Or worse, sleep with him. Because that would make her naïve and foolish. Oh, and also pregnant. And there's no way Callie is ever going to get pregnant at eighteen and with Reed's baby, no less. The guy she hates. The guy who taught her all about heartbreak. Who might look like a gorgeous hero but really is the villain of her story. This book demonstrates how local contexts of urbanization and cultures of work are intimately meshed together. Each chapter explores a discrete dimension of the way people organize their working lives in post-industrial cities, taking close account of the social and environmental impact of this balancing act. The book features cross-national and inter-city comparative household level research, highlighting significant contradictions underpinning the nature of production, consumer expectation, work-life balance and urban environmental quality. Senior year was off to a rough start: lube in my locker, panties on my front porch, unimaginative name-calling. See, I got a player suspended from the football team for harassing me, and in my small Texas town, you don't mess with the football players—even if they mess with you first. Travelling from Hokianga to Auckland in the middle decades of the twentieth century, the people of Panguru established themselves in the workplaces, suburbs, churches and schools of the city. Melissa Matutina Williams writes from the heart of these communities. The daughter of a Panguru family growing up in Auckland, she writes a perceptive account of urban migration through the stories of the Panguru migrants. Through these vibrant oral narratives, the history of Māori migration is relocated to the tribal and whānau context in which it occurred. For the people of Panguru, migration was seldom viewed as a one-way journey of new beginnings; it was experienced as a lifelong process of developing a 'coexistent home-place' for themselves and future generations. Dreams of a brighter future drew on the cultural foundations of a tribal homeland and past. Panguru and the City: Kāinga Tahī, Kāinga Rua traces their negotiations with people and places, from Auckland's inner-city boarding houses, places of worship and dance halls to workplaces and Maori Affairs' homes in the suburbs. It is a history that will resonate with Māori from all tribal areas who shared in the quiet task of working against state policies of assimilation, the economic challenges of the 1970s and neoliberal policies of the 1980s in order to develop dynamic Māori community sites and networks which often remained invisible in the cities of Aotearoa New Zealand. Sheltered by my political upbringing, I was destined to live a quiet and uneventful life - until James Creed, Vice President of the Devil's Cartel, barreled into my bedroom one hot summer evening. From that night on, I dreamt of leather, oil, and the biker covered in tattoos who rode a motorcycle so loud it hurt my ears. I craved to see the dark side of Exeter where the enigmatic men ran wild and free of the social and lawful expectations that ruled my life. My father's political campaign revolved around destroying the Devil's Cartel and cleansing the streets of Exeter. So I knew James Creed would always remain out of my reach.....until he wasn't. He was gorgeous, rough, and lethal. And as his hot leather passionately clashed with my delicate cashmere, I knew I had a decision to make, and I was torn. Do I continue to live my mundane life of luxury or give it all up to rule Exeter's underbelly? Through the corridors of the Windy City's criminal courts, single mother Libby Tucker knows exactly how far she'll go to save her cancer-stricken son's life. Circumstances force Libby to plead her case at the cleats of celebrity baseball player Banford Aidan Palowski, the man who discarded her at their college graduation. Libby has worked her backside bare for everything she's attained, while Aidan has been indulged since he slid through the birth canal and landed in a pile of Gold Coast money. But helping Libby and living up to his biological duty could jeopardize the only thing the jock worships: his baseball career. If baseball imitates life, Aidan admits his appears to be silver-plated peanuts, until an unexpected confrontation with the most spectacular prize that's ever poured from a caramel corn box blindsides him. When he learns about his son's desperate need, it pricks open the wound he's carried since he abandoned Libby and the child. All Libby wants is a little anonymous DNA, but Aidan has a magical umpire in his head who knows Libby's a fateball right to the heart. When a six-year-old sage and a hippy priestess step onto the field, there's more to settle between Libby and Aidan than heartache, redemption, and forgiveness. In the beginning, you have sex.
